What do I use and why

I started doing website building some years ago (at the urging of a friend). I started with Homestead, who—at the time—offered free services. Once they began charging, their prices were much higher than other companies (I do my research). I figured if I was going to pay, I wanted to get my money's worth. At the time, I was building and maintaining a website for a friend of mine who had a business. I had also created my own penguingoodies website. (www.penguingoodies.com)

Switched to Go Daddy: My website building was growing, and Go Daddy was a good choice. I still have one site with them—my condo association. Too labor intensive to switch that one at this point in time. (www.princessaestates.com) Go Daddy became very restrictive when it came to my creativity and small changes would amount to LARGE changes.

Onward to Wix: Not sure where I heard about Wix, but gave it a try when I was doing web stuff for FABS and SCF Social Committee. At first, our club website was with Go Daddy, who had now become a bit more technical and limited as to what I was trying to do. So---Switched to Wix!

Pricing, Creativity, Features

Pricing: Every so often, Wix offers discounted pricing. Their introductory offer was to my liking and they allowed me to transfer the club domain at no extra cost. OK...sign me up!

Creativity: As most are aware, I employ the use of graphics. Go Daddy was no longer allowing users to manipulate the graphics we use, and Wix not only does allow it, they have an extensive library of graphics from which to choose.

Features: Users can also use their own graphics. I can rotate, flip, and even animate graphics and text! Graphics are important in most cases because graphics will draw people in, to read the text and more.

Summary

So the choice is YOURS. Most companies offer free trial periods before requiring you to purchase a plan. Wix, however, lets you do a totally free site. You aren't locked into a plan unless you want to include your own domain name, etc.

I use both FREE Wix sites (my local neighborhood site is a freebie) and paid sites (our club site is paid).

Having used other formats (Homestead, Go Daddy, etc.) Wix is by far the easiest to use and most versatile.

Try it for yourself and just have FUN!
